✓ Weekly Summary (Short summary about what you did this week)

This first week we focused on getting ourselves organized. This included establishing regular meeting times, creating a group email alias, and assigning roles to individuals. We also set up a time to talk with our adviser (Prof. D. Rover) and contacted our client (Nathan Brockton of Reiman Gardens) to discuss the objective and scope of the project.

During our meeting we also looked at possible features of the app, and the benefit and difficulty of implementing them. Some of the features discussed were having a Facebook check-in, a live video feed to the hatchery, and a photo stream where attendance could post photos. These features we speculate would help encourage people to come and attend.

Topics to discuss with our contact with Reiman Gardens were also thought about. Some of the topics include documentation from the last group, platform used in the previous version, if we were continuing on the design already there or if we were to start over fresh.
