

EE 491 WEEKLY REPORT 12*Date: 4/12/15 - 4/19/15Group number: DEC1608Project title: Reiman Garden Butterfly Interpretation ApplicationClient: Nathan Brockman -- Curator, Christina Reiman Butterfly WingAdvisor: Dr. RoverWeekly Summary (Short summary about what you did this week)

This week, we gave a short presentation to the class about the nature of our project and how we were progressing. The presentation went well, but it was recommended that we speak louder.

We have been thinking about what needs to be added to the presentation to be ready for our final presentation. Topics to add include a discussion on our use of twitter bootstrap and why we chose it. Also, a discussion of what options are available for hosting would be appreciated, as well how we will test the system, and a refined conclusion section.

We are planning to meet with Dr. Rover, our adviser, to get her opinions about our presentation, and more generally, how she thinks we are doing.

We also started moving the web pages we had designed into Laravel, the php web framework we have decided to use. The conversion is going smoothly so far, but does take a bit of time to make sure that everything continues to work as expected.

Past week accomplishments (please describe as what was done, by whom, when)

- Presented to class
- Started converting existing stuff to Laravel

Plan for coming week

- Research Web Hosting Services
- Add sections to presentation / refine
